Assistance for Small Business Affected by the Bushfires

The Australian and state and territory governments are helping small businesses in bushfire affected communities get back up on their feet.

This includes support for small businesses to recover and rebuild, address cash flow pressures, and access financial counselling and tax support.

Recovery Grants

The Australian and state and territory governments are providing recovery grants of up to $50,000 to eligible small businesses and non-profit organisations, where they have suffered direct damage to their premises or equipment from the bushfires and intend to re-establish in the community.

The grants are available for clean-up and reinstatement activities, including replacement of goods and products.

For more information visit www.business.gov.au/news/bushfire-support

Concessional Loans

The Australian and state and territory governments are providing concessional loans of up to $500,000 to eligible small businesses (including primary producers) and non-profit organisations.

The loans are available for:

- ▶ restoration and replacement of assets damaged by the bushfires; and
- ▶ working capital expenses where a business has suffered a significant loss of income as a result of the bushfires.

Loans available for small businesses in eligible Local Government Areas whose assets have been significantly damaged or have suffered significant loss. Further information is available at www.disasterassist.gov.au and www.business.gov.au/news/bushfire-support

The above grants and loans for small businesses are funded under the Disaster Recovery Funding Arrangements. These are joint Federal Government-State cost sharing arrangements to alleviate the financial burden on the states responding to natural disasters and facilitate early provision of assistance to disaster affected communities.

Small Business Financial Support Line

The Government is establishing a support line to provide advice and support for small businesses in bushfire affected communities. The support line will provide information on the assistance that is available and access to specialist small business financial counselling services.

While the specialist Support Line is being established, businesses can visit www.business.gov.au or call 13 28 46.

Tax Support

Businesses in identified bushfire-impacted postcodes are eligible for tax support and assistance through the Australian Taxation Office (ATO), including:

- ▶ deferring the due date for lodgement and payment of business activity statements, income tax returns and fringe benefits tax returns to 28 May 2020;
- ▶ allowing businesses that pay their Pay As You Go (PAYG) instalments quarterly to vary their instalments to nil for the December 2019 quarter without penalty, and also claim a credit for the instalment amount paid for the September 2019 quarter; and
- ▶ allowing businesses to opt in to monthly GST reporting from the start of a quarter (such as 1 April 2020), in order to get quicker access to GST refunds.

Taxpayers impacted by the bushfires can contact the ATO's Emergency Support Infoline on 1800 806 218 for help. This phone line is available for everyone, including those who are outside the identified impacted areas.

Further information is available on the ATO website: www.ato.gov.au/Individuals/Dealing-with-disasters/In-detail/Specific-disasters/Bushfires-2019-20/
